

Bom. Ed. 8. 44. 40, the following to add :
bhūtilaye hi caṇḍālabrahmaṇasādhāraṇa eko jatāśayas tatra ca snātaḥ katham svargaṁ gacchen na kathamcid ity arthaḥ /

p. 430. 1 at the end of the entry Yamunā add : I. Bad omen : Among the bad omens which occurred when Kṛṣṇa started for Hāstinapura is mentioned one according to which great and foremost rivers flowing eastwards changed their course and started flowing in the opposite direction (pratyag ūhur mahā-nadyaḥ prāṇmukhāḥ sindhusattamāḥ) 5.
 82. 6 (Nī. on Bom. Ed. 5. 84. 6 : pratyak pratīpam ūhuḥ pravāhaṁ kṛtavatyāḥ); one of these big rivers could be Yamunā). [ See Kalmāśī, Kālindī ]

p. 444. 1. 24 after 8. 30. 35-36; add : also cf. 8. 30. 10;

p. 457. 2. 25 read : made the male child his chief of army

p. 490. 2. 24 read varo loka

p. 499. 2 at the end of the entry Himavant, before [ See Śaśira ] add the following : L. Limitation : Mahādeva told the seven sages, Vasistha and others, that the merit acquired by them by their austerities on Himavant was not equal to the merit of Arundhatī's austerities practised at Badarapācana tīrtha (bhavadbhir himavatprsthe yat tapaḥ samupārjitam / asyāś ca yat tapo viprā na samam tan matam mama) 9. 47.
 41, 28, 31-32.

Indologisches Seminar
 der Universität Bonn